Background

On November 17, 2017, Xcel Energy filed a petition for approval of a residential electric-vehicle (EV) service pilot program in Docket 17-817. The pilot provided an alternative to Xcel's existing EV service by reducing the upfront cost to separately meter EV electrical consumption through a submeter embedded in a Level 2 Charger. The Commission approved Xcel's pilot with modifications in its May 9, 2018 Order.

On May 31, 2019, Xcel filed its first annual report detailing the pilot's progress.

On August 30, 2019, Xcel requested, in the present docket, the Commission approve an expansion of the pilot into a permanent EV Home Service Program.
